

FINANCE TIPS

FOR FIRST HOMESTEAD OWNERS

01. SOURCING WATER

Being off-grid means that you will be on your own. Ensure that you have a fresh water source nearby or additional income to dig a well, have a rainwater harvest system and many more.

02. REALISTIC BUDGET EXPECTATIONS

Avoid the first-time homestead buyer mistake by setting unrealistic expectations. Get real by working on a budget that fits your needs and plan unforeseen scenarios such as medical expenses.

03. GROWING YOUR OWN FOOD

Planning is key. Off-grid experts recommend to plan a long term food supply by pickling and preserving produce. You can also grow your veggies well in advance in raised beds.

04. EMBRACE THE DIY LIFE!

You would be surprised by the amount you could save when creating self-sufficient alternatives! We are are talking about cleaning products, baking your bread, recycled furniture and more!

05. INVEST IN WHAT MATTERS

Stick to essential factors in your homestead that requires investing such as safety or energy efficient resources. Set your priorities and invest smartly for the long-run.
